Galenica Santé adds Merfen[®] and Vita-Merfen[®] to its OTC product portfolio

The Galenica Group is further strengthening its OTC product portfolio in the Galenica Santé Business unit. Its subsidiary Vifor Consumer Health is acquiring the two iconic Swiss brands Merfen[®] and Vita-Merfen[®] from GSK Consumer Healthcare Schweiz AG. Vifor Consumer Health is therefore entering a new market in the form of wound care and further expanding its position in the Swiss healthcare market.

Vifor Consumer Health is set to acquire the commercialisation rights for Merfen[®] and Vita-Merfen[®], including the brands and approval in Switzerland, from GSK Consumer Healthcare. This will enable Vifor Consumer Health to establish a presence in the strong-selling Swiss wound disinfection and healing market, which is worth over CHF 50 million (street price – IMS Health 2016), and to further expand its position as a leading partner for pharmacies and drugstores in the Swiss healthcare market.

Launched over 50 years ago, Merfen[®] is a medication for disinfecting wounds and enjoys a high degree of brand recognition in Switzerland. With a 40% share of the disinfection segment, Merfen[®] holds a strong position in this market. In Switzerland, Merfen[®] products are listed under distribution category D and are therefore available in pharmacies and drugstores without a prescription. Vifor Consumer Health will sell Merfen[®] through these channels from May 2017 onwards.

Vita-Merfen[®] ointment has disinfectant and wound-healing properties. Sales of the traditional ointment were discontinued in Switzerland in 2014 for production-related reasons and it has been greatly missed by both pharmacists and consumers. Vifor Consumer Health will evaluate the possibility of a product relaunch, providing more information in due course.

The expansion of the Vifor Consumer Health product portfolio is a further logical step in implementing the strategy of Galenica Santé and its Products & Brands Business sector by driving growth with the launch and distribution of its own and partner brands and products throughout the specialist retail trade in Switzerland. Vifor Consumer Health has recently supplemented its product range with partner brands in the Beauty Category, specifically with exclusive distribution agreements for Dermo-cosmetics brands A-Derma (from Pierre Fabre) and the Lierac and Phyto brands (from the Alès Groupe).
